'Man Who Came To Dinner' To Be Next University Play

Kuhl, Falknor Have Leading Roles;
Production To Be Dec. 10 and 11

Lawrence Kuhl will star in the role of Sheridan Whitesides in the next University production, "The Man Who Came To Dinner," written by Moss Hart and George Kaufman. Montey Wooley made this part famous on both the stage and screen. His hard suffering secretary will be played by Virginia Falknor.

Kuhl, a senior from Cuyahoga Falls, has appeared in "Margin For Error," "Outward Bound," "Twelfth Night," "The Late Christopher Bean," "The Male Animal," "Family Portrait," and "The Eve of St. Mark." Miss Falknor, a sophomore from Dayton, will be remembered for her performance in "The Royal Family" and "Hay Fever."

Ten freshmen, nine sophomores, two juniors, and three seniors will appear in the cast:

Suyd Hossain Will Speak At Forum Sunday

Dr. Suyd Hossain, former newspaper man in London and Bombay will speak at the Wood County Forum at 3:00 p.m. Sunday, in the High School Auditorium. He will discuss "India in the World Crisis."

Dr. Hossain knows the Moslem world and the underlying forces that control the Far East. Born of Persian parents in Calcutta, he grew up in India and attended the Moslem University of Aligarh, India. Later, he became editor of the Allahabad Independent and of the Bombay Daily Chronicle.

Special lecturer in the History of Civilization and World Affairs at the University of Southern California, Dr. Hossain is also author of several books concerning the Far East and the world situation. Including "Ghandi, Saint or Sinner," "What Price Tolerance?" and "Democracy in Islam."

Dr. Hossain returned to the United States in 1938 from an extensive trip in the Orient. He saw the approach of the world conflict and interviewed many of the Far Eastern leaders, including Ghandi and Nehru.

Gloria Andrews Will Teach In Bowling Green

Gloria Andrews, a former Puerto Rican exchange student at the University, has been employed to teach Spanish at Bowling Green Senior High School.

Miss Andrews, who was graduated in June, 1941, did her practice teaching in that subject at the High School and has had two years experience teaching extension courses for the University. She has completed all of the work on her master of arts degree but the thesis.

She will fill the vacancy left by Raymond Rubrake, who has been inducted into the army.

YMCA Directory Still On Sale

Several copies of the Student Directory are still available at 20 cents each.

They may be purchased from Harlan Horton, business manager, or Prof. Leon Fauley, adviser.

Navy Cadets Double Number As Third Group Trains

Quota of navy cadets trained at Bowling Green State University has been doubled.

Twenty youths started their first Navy V-5 courses last week at the campus. There were only 10 in each of the two previous groups. Two "washed out" of the first eight-week course and only one from the second.

Like their predecessors, the new navy cadets sleep at Kohl Hall, eat at the Falcon's Nest, and learn to fly at Bricker airport.

The University Players, under the direction of Elden T. Smith, will present the comedy on December 10 and 11.

Plant Police Attend Five Day Training Course

Sixty representatives of plant protection units in Northwestern Ohio attended a five-day institute on the campus last week.

Dr. Frank J. Prout, university president, welcomed the group. The industrial police who were here will instruct their own units in protection of plant personnel and property during the war.

The institute was one of a series of such schools being held throughout the state, according to Col. Lynn Black, superintendent of the State Highway Patrol.

The program was endorsed by the State Defense Council and military authorities of the Fifth Service Command.

Lieut. V. M. Andrews and Sgt. M. G. Hegele of the patrol made arrangements for the local institute.

IM Department To Offer Course

A new course will be inaugurated by the IM department when director Gene Thomas begins his Intramural Administration Course Sunday in Room 100 of the Women's Building.

The classes will run for an eight week period and all students completing the course will be awarded a certificate recognizing that fact. The course will include a study of intramural organization and the successful administration.

The course is being offered to both men and women and will run from 1:30 to 2:30 each Sunday afternoon.

Copies of Webster's Dictionary of Synonyms are on sale at $4 at the Book Store.

Dr. Lowrie Pens Phylon' Article

Dr. S. H. Lowrie, professor of sociology, is the author of an 18-page article in the current issue of Phylon, Negro quarterly published by Atlanta University.

The article, "The Negro Element in the Population of Sao Paulo, a Southernly State of Brazil," appears on the 50th anniversary of the freeing of slaves in Brazil.

Dr. Lowrie formerly was in research work at Sao Paulo.

Cut System Will Be Unchanged Despite Student Petitioning

University attendance regulations will not be changed, Dr. Frank J. Prout, president of the University, announced today.

A committee of students, some for and some against a change in regulations, conferred with Dr. Prout last week, and it was decided that the arguments presented were not sufficient to warrant a change in the present policy.

This committee, composed of four student council members, presented a petition stating the views of the committee. This petition, signed by about 350 members of the student body, was printed in last week's issue of the Bee Gee News.

Dr. Prout explained that the present attendance regulations came about in the following manner: (1) when there were no attendance regulations, students would attend afternoon classes and cut their morning classes, (2) the result of such disorder showed that the students who made a practice of such attendance were failing their morning classes and barely getting by in their afternoon classes, (3) these students failing courses were sent home by the University officials, (4) parents then brought pressure to bear upon the University officials to set up a list of attendance regulations that would prevent such things from happening in the future.

"When the attendance at Bowling Green State University reaches a point that it rivals such schools as Ohio State, Illinois University, or the University of Cincinnati, then and only then do I see reason to alter the present regulations," Dr. Prout stated.

"The reputation of our University is at stake when we fail to

Students Plan Programs For A C E Meetings

The Association for Childhood Education planned the programs for the remainder of this year at the last meeting, November 11. The club members divided into four groups, each representing a phase of child education. These phases are: Movies, chairman, Betty Knecht; Appreciation, chairman, Haroldine Palmiter; Nursery School, chairman, Elizabeth Raggs; Problem Children, chairman, Betty Loveland.

These groups are responsible for presenting the material collected by the group in the following meetings of the ACE.

Film Is Shown For Chemists

A technicolor, sound film entitled "Steel—Man's Servant" will be shown at the Chemical Journal Club at 7:00 tonight.

Burton Findlay will review the important chemical aspects of the steel industry. Doris Peat will discuss the current issue of Things of Science.

Dr. Burkhardt To Address Student Body

Dr. Roy Burkhardt, pastor of First Community Church in Columbus, will address the University Assembly at 11:20 a.m. tomorrow on social relationships of youth.

Eight o'clock classes will not meet until 8:45 a.m. Nine o'clock classes will be from 8:50 until 9:35; 10 o'clock ones, 9:40-10:25, and 11 o'clock ones, 10:30-11:15.

Dr. Burkhardt possesses a commendable academic background, holding degrees from four colleges. He received his Ph. D. from Chicago University. He has written numerous magazine articles and his book, "Understanding Youth: His Search For a Way of Life" was recently published.

Dr. Burkhardt also will speak in the Auditorium at two other times tomorrow, at 4 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

He is being sponsored by the YMCA.

Westminster Club To Discuss Speaker

Westminster Club will hear a panel discussion Sunday night based on the comments that will be made by Dr. Roy Burkhardt in various campus meetings tomorrow.

Rev. Bulkley will be chairman of the discussion and members of the panel will be Thomas Bowlus, as the YMCA representative, Duane Kidwell, Esther Burner, and Dorothy Salisbury. The general topic will be "Social Relationships of Youth."

Westminster meets at 6:30 instead of 7 as previously.

Jan Valtin Predicts European Revolt When German Army Is Crushed

This war can end only in Berlin. As long as the German army controls Europe, there will be no revolution against Hitler.

Civil war will break out all over Europe after the Nazi might is broken.

Responsibility for the peace may fall on America.

So declared Jan Valtin, author of the best-seller, "Out of the Night," in an address Thursday morning at assembly.

"Though Germany cracked when its army was backed into that nation in 1918, it will give up only in Berlin this time," the German-born ex-communist contended.

"Five million organized Nazis live and die with Hitler. Those men know that after the war they will have no place to go. They know they will be killed. They have no other choice than to fight to the last man."

"In 1918 the Kaiser fled to Holland but remained the biggest land owner in Europe. The German military machine lost only its honor."

European revolution against Hitler is "out of the question" as long as the Nazi army remains intact, the speaker said. He emphasized that revolution follows, not precedes, military defeat.

"Civil war—anti-Nazi against Nazis—will break out all over Europe the minute the Hitler

Falcons Outrun Oberlin To Win First Ohio Conference Title

McDonnall, Hicks Finish First And Second;
Team To Run In National Meet Saturday

The cross country team won its first Ohio Conference title last Saturday at Ashland by defeating the former champion, Oberlin. Elmer McDonnall led over thirty runners and finished first in 20 minutes, 37 seconds.

Clarence Hicks finished second next to McDonnall, Eli Toplansy was sixth; Ralph Boroff, eighth; Dave Burke, eleventh; and George McDonald, twelfth.

Five Ohio Conference teams entered the meet. Bowling Green scored 26 points, followed closely by Oberlin with a score of 31. Oberlin, who was easily beaten at the first of the season, showed surprising strength by taking second place. Case ran third with 66, Ashland 119, and Kenyon was last.

The hill and dale boys will wind up a successful season Saturday at Michigan State, where they will enter the National Intercollegiate Championship race.

Debaters Discuss International Political Union

Four students participated in a demonstration debate at Maumee High School Thursday afternoon.

Bob Morgan and Marvin Pierce upheld the affirmative and Lee Miesle and Larry Kuhl the negative.

The question is, "Resolved, That the United Nations should establish a federal union to tax and regulate international commerce, maintain a police force, settle international disputes and enforce such settlements, and provide for the admission of other nations to the union."

Both high school and college debaters throughout America are using the same question.

Harold M. Jordan, new debate coach, accompanied seven speakers to Denison University 10 days ago for a practice tournament with four other universities. The Bowling Green group has had no other intercollegiate competition this season.

Reason For Check Delay

Change from state to regional office set-up is responsible for the delay in NYA checks, Dr. H. B. Williams said today. He has been advised that the Cleveland staff is unable to write checks as quickly as the old Columbus office did.

In cross country scoring the winner receives no points, but the runners up do. The position in which they finish is counted against the team, and the team scoring the last amount of points wins the meet.

Rushing Plans Changed To Later Date

At Inter-Sorority meeting last week, several plans were changed for the final round-up of the rushing season.

According to Martha Jordan, Inter-Sorority President, the schedule of formal and informal parties will remain in the same order but will be postponed until the week after Thanksgiving. Formal parties will begin November 30, and informal parties December 7. There will be no informal rushing during the above period.

Friday, December 11 will be silence day, continuing until bids are received Saturday, December 12. Informal rushing will continue until Monday, November 30.

The above change of dates is for the purpose of getting the nine weeks' estimates so that people who did not make grades will not be rushed. The Council voted to have all people intending to pledge a sorority register in the dean of women's office.

Coaches Attend Cincy Meeting

Miss Gertrude Eppler and Coaches Harold Anderson and Warren Steller attended a physical fitness institute in Cincinnati last week end.

Students interested in distributive education are to attend a 20-minute meeting in 302-PA at 4 p.m. Thursday. For those unable to be there, the meeting will be duplicated at 5 p.m.

United Voice For Victory...

Without sacrificing editorial independence or their right to make independent judgments, the editors and staff members of this newspaper agree to unite with all college newspapers of the nation to support, wholeheartedly and by every means at their command, the government of the United States in the war effort, to the end that the college press of the nation may be a United Voice for Victory.

Think Before You Act...

There are times when one may question the courtesy of college students. Such a time arose last Thursday when about 50 students crowded around the assembly speaker, Jan Valtin, to obtain his autograph.

There is no excuse for such conduct. Mr. Valtin was invited to the campus by University officials for the purpose of addressing the students, not autograph half-a-hundred curiosity seekers.

Such actions not only reflect upon the students, but also upon the University itself. Undoubtedly the autograph collector has a place in society, but that place is not on the assembly platform before a crowded auditorium. There were many townspeople and guests present at that assembly and such a display of conduct was not a credit to Bowling Green State University.

There is little that can be done at the time when such a predicament arises. It is up to the students to use a little common sense in the matter. If we would think of the results of such action before we rushed into it, not only would we benefit, but our University would be placed in a much brighter light in the eyes of the public.

Boys and girls attend high school—men and women attend universities. THINK, BEFORE YOU ACT!—DK

Snapshots For Victory...

Have you ever taken a trip to Europe or a world cruise, or lived in the Far of Middle East? If you ever have done any of these things, then surely you have snapshots—snapshots which might be valuable to the United States government.

The Office of Strategic Services is on the hunt for photographs showing terrain of foreign lands which may become theatres of war. Here is a chance for many people to do their share toward winning the war. Those pictorial views which now adorn the pages of your photograph album may prove to be just what our government is looking for at the present time.

Pictures themselves should not be sent in now, but it is urged that people with such photographs in their possession write a letter to the Office of Strategic Services, Station G, Box 46, New York City, outlining what they might have in the way of snapshots of foreign lands. A questionnaire then will be mailed to each letter-writer to determine whether or not his pictures will be of value to the government.

Let's get out those photograph albums and help our government in a pictorial way!—DK

NEWS OF NOTE

By GINNY DALTON

Well, pops up now another staccato-sized shot of "Musical's Muse," or, what simmers down Tin Pan Alley way.

First off, we find the Andrews sisters heading the "beef" list with the gripe that they're tired of bad pictures. Patty, speaking for the trio, stated that "with everyone else getting a glamour build-up, we are given parts, costumes, and handling which make us look like underfed goats!" Could be, gals.

Sad news for bands and fans alike is this bit. Seems as though all special trains and coaches have been frozen, and band members will be subject to the same conditions as the average passenger. All of which boils down to the fact that if adequate reservations cannot be made, some band members will be left behind. Probable result: Harry James without his trumpet section or Tommy Dorsey minus those trombones. What next?

Claude Thornhill has signed for active duty with the navy, and, according to Claude himself, no more "Snowfall" for the duration. — From Down Beat come these pearls: Hoot Parade—Drummers who think facial expressions more important than the beat. Encyclopedia Musicanna-Jitterbug; Small insect that, like the Japanese beetle, is practically impossible to eradicate.—Harry James is now top box-office orchestra.—Phil Spitalny is dreaming up a 100-piece girl outfit, and expects to include sympho stuff as well as the usual on-the-beam style.—Six Hits and A Miss have been whittled down to but Four Hits, with the enlistment of two-sevenths of the group.

What's new on Record: "Don't Do It, Darling," Glen Gray, Decca; "Ride On," Count Basie, Columbia; "Jingle Bells," Woody Herman, Decca; "Oh, Look At You," Harry James, Elite; "Pass The Biscuits, Marandy," Merry Macs, Decca; "Massachusetts," Krups, Okah.

Most played records at the moment is "Stage Door Canteen" by Sammy Kaye for Victor. Charlie Spivak's "My Devotion" for Columbia is a close second.

Misadventures With Miesle

Tots Tremble As Thespian Throws Terrible Tantrum

BY LEE MEISLE

Now it can be told—the strange, almost weird tale of the queer experience which befell me last week. It demonstrates all too clearly, I think, the wisdom of that old saying, "Hatch your counts before chickens don't."

The first tiny threads of this strange story began about a month ago, when I was lucky enough, through some freak of misjudgment on someone's part, to receive a role in "The Eve of St. Mark." Naturally, I had lines to learn—lots of lines, all of them difficult. But that is neither here nor there.

These lines that I had to learn naturally required a goodly amount of rehearsing before mirrors, etc. I soon developed the habit of running over them (roughshod, as it were) as I walked to play rehearsal in the evening. It was this habit which was responsible for the unenvying ten minutes which nearly landed me in the booby hatch.

I recall that on the night of which I speak I was strolling innocently down Wooster Street, bellowing out a few choice lines which contained particularly violent cuss words. Naturally, I was using my southern accent. (I could hear poor General Lee turning in his grave like a revolving door on Macy's as I talked.) As I sauntered up the avenue, I noticed a group of small children at play ahead of me. Paying them no heed, I walked straight on, delivering with great gusto a speech about "I want to sink those damn Jap boats. I want to sink all of them" just as I walked by the little tykes. Its effect was amazing. Hardly had I gotten the words out of my mouth when I was completely surrounded by gaping youngsters.

"Jeez, look, fellas—a queer!" one of them said.

"Queer?" I returned stiffly. "I'm afraid I don't understand."

"Have ya got your straight jacket with ya, huh? Have ya, mister?" inquired a little girl.

"Foam at the mouth for us, will ya mister?" a grimy-faced little boy pleaded.

I chuckled to myself. Imaginative little creatures! They had heard me deliver my line from the play, and had naturally thought it was the deluded ravings of a maniac. A perfectly natural mistake, I told myself. Why not give the little shavers a break and put on an act for them?

Straightening to my full height, I pointed one finger majestically toward the sky, and proclaimed "I am descended on my father's side from Francis Marion, and on my mother's side from Patrick Henry."

Oddly enough, the kiddies huddled together in a little group, and watched me wide-eyed as I dropped to all fours, and cautiously circled an empty space of ground. "Whatcha doin', mister?" inquired one little tyke.

"Shhhh!" I chorled. "There's a pixie here, and I'm going to trap him."

Unaccountably, one of the little girls began to cry. Another joined her, and another, and another, and soon the whole chorus was wailing. I admit I was confused. What did one do in such an exigency? Deciding that I would perform some humorous trick, I produced a fountain pen from my pocket, balanced it on my nose, and walked the crack in the sidewalk.

"I'm a tight-wire walker, see?" I said. It didn't help. They cried all the louder. One dirty little urchin even began to scream for help. As I took the fountain pen off my nose, I noticed that I now had a considerably larger audience. Several adults had joined the crowd, and they advanced menacingly toward me.

"Now wait a minute," I exclaimed. "I realize that this looks peculiar. But I can—now wait—don't you dare come a step closer."

They didn't seem to hear me. In an ominous little circle, they advanced nearer and nearer.

"He's probably violent. Better club him when we grab him," said one burly citizen.

That was enough for me. Grabbing an overhanging limb, I swung across the heads of the advancing crowd to the roof of a nearby auto, leaped off, and ran as if someone were shooting red-hot arrows into my posterior. What a thrilling sight that must have been—me, smoking down the street, with a cloud of puffing citizens hot on the trail. But I fooled them. Hiding behind a tree, I joined the crowd as it came up to my place of hiding.

"He's gone—there's no use of chasing him farther," I told one panting fellow beside me.

"You're right—I'm tired. I'm going home."

SCENE AROUND THE CAMPUS

Bee Gee lasses having skirt trouble these windy days... The local gendarmes patrolling cautiously about as a group of fraternity men march to serenade one of their member's betrothed... Be-smear'd fraternity initiates, on mysterious errands... Bedraggled remnants of homecoming decorations... John Podorski's beaming smile emanating from the speech bulletin board... University men limping all over the place after a hectic session of leaping off the high board during swimming class... Al Harmon bobbing up with little gems of wisdom in his Economic History class... Ignorant freshmen who thought the visiting State Patrol Protection Institute had something to do with vegetation...

THINGS WE MISS

That boiling hot sun we used to curse... Banana splits... The tin foil on gum wrappers. It made perfect spit balls... The good old days when one could get an afternoon's supply of peanuts for a nickel. Ah, inflation... Professor Holt's antique collection in the News office... The carefree attitude the war took away... The tread that used to be on that left rear tire... A social gathering where they served something besides cider... The alarm clock we threw out of the window in a fit of temper last week... Eight o'clock classes. If we miss many more, we'll be broken from paying dollars... Nine weeks tests. Ouch! Who threw that?... People at pep rallies. The one before the Wittenberg game was really a grand flop...

THINGS WE CAN DO WITHOUT

People who ask moronic questions of visiting assembly speakers... Scratchy winter underwear... Those long, long assignments that interfere with our—ah—extra-curricular activities... All those war pictures on Sunday nights at the Cla-zel. Oh, for a good comedy!... Coffee. Looks like we're going to have to do without it anyway, so we might as well be philosophical about the whole thing... Bedmates who practice swimming kicks in their sleep... Anti-freeze—I keep telling myself...

THINGS WE NEED

A cap for our fountain pen... An infallible technique for getting dates... More time between physical ed and our next class... A bit of life in some of the old organizations around here... Somebody to tell us what to write next... Free blue books. They're getting to be quite an item... An overhaul job on the state car... A new time standard so we wouldn't have to dress in the dark every morning... A snow shovel. That sky looks ominous...

THERE WILL BE WEEPING AND WAILING WHEN

Nine weeks grades are all known... They start drafting 18-19 year olds... They call up the reserves... Gas rationing becomes a reality... The editor sees this column... I find out what that blind date looks like—and she sees what I look like... That expense account is presented to the folks... People start computing how far they can drive on four gallons... The Toledo Blade editor looks over his sheet and reads that headline "Rommel's Rear Takes Terrific Pounding"...

WE WONDER

How that projected campus musical is turning out... How long those natty caps will last... If we should buy some text books... How much longer they're going to drive us outside during physical education class... If we ought to change the sheets on our bed. They've been on for a month now... How long people will stand our borrowing things of them... How long it will be before we become a candidate for the "We've Been Shafted" Club... If you're still awake after reading this far...

Varsity Club To Entertain At Traditional Kickoff Hop

BY JO TRUE

Hold your hats, students, this Saturday gives us the annual Varsity Club Kick-off Dance. Ernie Duffield's band will play for the affair, which will be held in the Women's Gymnasium, from 9 to 12 p.m.

The dance is given in honor of the football and cross-country teams. General Chairman Doug Myers says that there will be the traditional introduction of next year's football captain and a short talk from Ralph Quesinberry, this year's captain. Hank Chapoton, in charge of decorations, plans on an athletic theme for the hall. Karl Turner has charge of the band arrangements and Jean Belard of refreshments.

This is going to be one of the biggest all-campus affairs of the year, so everyone be there.

Friday night from 9-12 p.m. there will be another in the series of closed fraternity dances. These dances are for fraternity members, their dates, and guests. The music will be supplied by the nickelodion. The Recreation Hall will be the scene of the dance.

Sororities

ALPHA PHI EPSILON

This week the sorority received an announcement of the marriage of Lee Mallus, last year's sorority president, to Robert Freeman of Dayton. The marriage took place November 2.

FIVE SISTERS

Plans have been completed for the final rush parties, which will be postponed until the week following Thanksgiving vacation.

Janet Jacobs, Jeanne Anne Goodnight, and Patricia Meil, former Five Sisters, visited the house over the week end.

SEVEN SISTER

The Seven Sister Sorority is completing its final plans for the rush season. Mary Percy, rush captain, appointed the following committee heads: Informal parties, Jacqueline Pierson; Entertainment, Lois Breyley; Food, Meg Friday; Invitations, Jerry Leak; Phyllis Scofield; Formal dinner, Madeline Biehan; Entertainment, Ann Koch; Food, Mary E. Beattie; Decorations, Betty Barrett; and Invitations, Mickey Sitterle.

Fraternities

BETA GAMMA UPSILON

Pledge Lindenmyer was formally initiated into the fraternity due to his tentative plans to go to the army. He was granted an indefinite deferment.

If your clothes are becoming to you they should be coming to us.

Dean Speaks

Miss Audrey Kenyon Wilder, dean of women, addressed the annual Panhellenic banquet Friday at the University of Akron. She has been active in Delta Gamma, national social fraternity for women, since undergraduate days at Albion College. For several years she was state and later district chairman of the Delta Gamma alumnae committee. Now she is chairman of a national committee which will award $500 in cash to the Delta Gamma alumnae considered to have the most promise in leadership.

Treble Clef Club Broadcasts Friday

Treble Clef club members will broadcast 15 minutes of songs over WFIN, Findlay, Friday at 5:30 p.m. This program is part of the tri-weekly series of "Bowling Green on the Air."

Dr. James Paul Kennedy, director, will be assisted by three seniors in the music department, Norma Jean Meyers, Martha DeWeese, and Tedca Arnold.

Prospective Pledges Beware Of Sugary Sorority Sisters

The time has come, the walrus said, to speak of many things... And we think it's time to give these future pledges a tip or two so that they won't wake up some cold and frosty morn to be horribly disillusioned by these sweet, sweet sorority kids, who've been turning on the charm since way back in September.

Because after November 30 every little pledge will be crawling to the tune of "squirm worm" until way into the small months of 1943. When your chummy big sis has a letter to mail at 8:30 p.m. and you're anywhere within telephone range, you're going to be the lucky kid elected to run down to the station.

You'll spend your Saturday afternoons buffing and dusting, scrubbing and straightening, while the sorority members stand around and criticize in a body. You'll arise with the Dawn Patrol to awaken said big sister, gently but firmly, only to be muttered at: "I'm cutting my 8 o'clock-go 'way!"

And then comes the reward, Hell Week, terminating in a big, fat, never-to-be-forgotten Hell Night when you're compelled to imitate all sorts of horrible things and to exhibit every conceivable talent that you don't have. It's very degrading to one's morale, believe me!

So if you're cherishing any ideas about doing the sorority a favor by pledging, please, please get rid of them or don't let the actives know that you ever thought such a thing. They can make life mighty miserable for you if you don't have the right attitude. Just hang on to your sense of humor and self respect and grit your teeth and it'll all be over in a few weeks.

This Time It Is The Women Who Pay

Any woman student who has not paid her W.S.G.A. dues must do so immediately or lose all privileges. The amount is 50 cents and it is payable to Dean Wilder's office.

Curtain Comes Down On 1942 Football Here Saturday

Sports Briefs

BY ELMER BROWN

From all indications, the Falcons have played their last football game with the Red Devils of Wittenberg as members of the Ohio Conference. It seems that the Wittenberg coaching staff thinks the Falcons are out of their class.

With less than three weeks before their opening game, the quintet that will represent the school on the hardwood has been rapidly developing into a formidable outfit. Last week the Orange and Brown scrimmaged the White Chevrolets of Toledo, and looked very good.

Grosse Ile, the last opponent on the Falcon schedule, boasts a line-up which includes three former All-Americans. In the starting line-up we find big Charley Maag, former Whittaker coached man.

Three members of this year's Falcon football squad should be very high up when the sport writers begin picking All-Ohio's and All-Conference teams. Bordner, Martin, and Marazon have been the main reasons that the Brood have become feared on the gridiron during the past two seasons.

Bowling Green over Grosse Ile, Ohio State over Michigan, Denison over Wittenberg, Western Reserve over Ohio Wesleyan, Cincinnati over Xavier, Oberlin over Earlham, Bradley Tech. over Toledo, Alabama over Vanderbilt, Boston College over Boston University, Georgia Tech. over Florida, Yale over Harvard, Minnesota over Wisconsin, Notre Dame over Northwestern, Army over Princeton, and U.C.L.A. over Washington.

Whittakermen Held To Scoreless Tie At Findlay

The favored Falcons from Bowling Green, were held to a 0-0 stalemate by the Findlay Oilers Friday afternoon.

Bowling Green threatened at least four times, reaching five, eight, nine, and the 29 yard lines, only to be halted each time by either loose ball handling or alert Findlay defensive play.

In the second quarter the Falcons tried to register a field goal. Pete Popovich attempted the kick from the 30 yard line, but it was slightly low and to the left of the crossbars.

The Brood clearly outplayed the Oilers in the matter of statistics. Findlay never advanced into scoring position due to the fine line play and brilliant pass defense set up by the Orange and Brown. The Oilers netted only 67 yards to Bowling Green's 84 yards. The Falcons also held a considerable edge in first downs, claiming eight to the Oiler's three.

Halfbacks Lowry and Hall and End Bordner played outstanding defensive ball for the Falcons. Captain Quesinberry played by far the best game he has engaged in this year.

With the temperature at the freezing point and a biting wind whipping through the stadium, it was difficult to hang on to the pigskin. Several times BG potential pass receivers were in the open but their numb fingers couldn't hang on to the oval.

With quarterback Danny Marazon on the sidelines due to a leg injury, Lowell Sielshott handled most of the kicking and passing. In the third quarter Sielshott produced the punting gem of the game when he booted the pigskin from his own 25 over the Findlay goaline. The ball barely rolled over the double stripe.

Halfback Red Lowry thrilled the small turnout of fans in the first quarter when he turned in another of his remarkable runs, returning a punt 58 yards to Findlay's 39.

The BG fans were brought to their feet again in the final period by big Wayne Bordner when he blocked a Findlay punt on the Oiler's 29. But their joy was short lived as Babcock's attempted pass was intercepted and the Falcons were thrown in reverse.

Friday's Ohio Conference game marked the fifth deadlock between the two schools since 1920.

Five Brothers Win Crown

The university touch football crown was won late Monday afternoon by the Five Brothers Fraternity, as they held the Delhi's to a scoreless tie. The Delhi's were out to avenge an earlier defeat by the same club.

Earlier in the season the Five Brothers had pasted the Delhi's with their only defeat of the season 7-0.

Both teams played great defensive ball, and time and time again plays were smothered by the fast charging line-men of both teams. Neither could cash in on even one of many scoring chances.

The surprise of the afternoon was the Pi Kappa Alpha's 13-6 victory over a favored Beta Gamma team.

SULLY SAYS

By JIM SULLIVAN

The annual fraternity swimming meet was held last Wednesday with the Five Brothers again splashing away with the laurels. Contested only by the Delhi's the Five Brothers gathered 22 points with one first and four second places.

The interfraternity competition along the Intramural way took a new path last Thursday as the four fraternities met in volleyball and table tennis matches. Victories were registered in volleyball by the PiKA's and Five Brothers while the paddle matches were won by the Delhi's and Five Brothers.

One of the hottest contests of Intramural activity for several years is now in the making between the TNT and Brennerball touch-football teams. The TNT's, holders of the first half crown, dropped their first meet of the season last Thursday when the Bruisers downed them in an overtime period 6-0. The Brennerbulls were handed their only defeat by the TNT's in the first round of play.

Entry blanks for the fraternity and house-dorm basketball teams are now available. Deadline for the registering of the entry blanks in the IM department has been set for Nov. 20. Three leagues petition last year and more

Tankmen Prep For First Meet

Coach Joe Glander has been sending his charges through rigid training to develop the proper muscles for good swimming and diving.

Veterans returning from last year's varsity and freshmen squads include: Kenny Kost, Phil Hodes, Paul Stark, James Gorby, George Spangler, and Bill Holzaphel. This season's squad will also be bolstered by freshmen.

New men out for this season's team will be: Kiggins, Sandusky, Meriam, Stubbs, Murray, Booth, Podorski, Fish, Moulard, Hill Racz, and Fox.

This year's schedule includes the tougher teams in Ohio and the men perform at the home Natatorium for seven of the ten meets.

operated in the basketball competition last year and more or larger leagues are a sure fire probability for this year. Competition for all leagues will open directly after Thanksgiving vacation on Nov. 30.

The Intramural department has made arrangements for coed swimming each Saturday morning. The pool will be open from 10 to 12.

Intensive plans are now underway in the Intramural department for annual All-College wrestling tourney to be held January 11, 13, and 18. All entries for the tourney must be in by noon January 4th.

Last year's matches will long be remembered by the local mat fans. All rules and regulations of the matches are the same, except the required enrolling and participating in pre-match practices.

Thirty men participated last year. Finalists likely to return to defend their titles are Al Harmon, Joe Kay, Bruce Ballard, Jim Wright, Bill O'Shaughnessy, and Wayne Bloker.

Grosse Ile Naval Cadets Bolster All-Americans

The Falcons meet a highly regarded Grosse Ile Naval Cadet eleven Saturday in the final grid contest of the season. The Bee Gee squad has won five contests, lost two, and tied one.

The outfit starting against the Falcons Saturday will be one of the heaviest teams ever to face a Bee Gee squad. The line average is just a bit over 200 and the backfield is 175.

Grosse Ile lost to Baldwin-Wallace 54-0 last Saturday as the Yellow-Jackets played their best game of the season. The only team that both Grosse Ile and Bowling Green have met this season is Wayne University of Detroit. The Falcons beat Wayne 20-7, and just a week later Grosse Ile also defeated the Tartars 7-3.

The starting eleven boasts of three former college greats, and one of these three played for two years with the Green Bay Packers of the Professional league.

Three seniors will play their last football game for the Orange and Brown. Bob Eckert, guard, Steve Randolph, tackle, and Lowell Seilschott, halfback. The other senior, Captain Ralph Quesinberry, played his final game for Friday.

Bee Gee's marching band will also appear for the last time during the half.

Falcon Sports For Femmes

The WAA wishes to extend their thanks to the faculty, merchants, students, townspeople, industrial arts department, and to all others who contributed to the USO benefit carnival and its success.

The Outing Club is having its second get-together on November 20. There will be unique outdoor cooking with Norma Nicholas and Carol Becker in charge. Be sure to sign up ahead of time if any "food" is expected.

The V-11's are still leading the hockey tournament with Lois Bentley crashing through to make most of the goals. Last Thursday the V-11's beat the Sock-its, 3-0. The Commandos defeated the Hockettes, 2-0. Goals were made by Miller, Bentley, and Grover. Two more games remain to be played off in this season.

Volleyball and badminton will head intramural sports after Thanksgiving.

All girls are urged to pay their WAA dues of 40 cents as soon as possible.
